THE BOOK OF THE HOUR

Government Ownership of Railroads, Vol. II

Until the federal government took over the control of the railroads, December 28, 1917, as a war measure, all discussions on this subject were more or less theoretical—as far as conditions in the United States were concerned.

But since that time the discussions have taken a more practical term and in Volume II of GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS all the most important of these arguments pro and con that have appeared in books, magazine articles, newspapers, pamphlets, etc., have been assembled in orderly array for easy reading.

It is not a new edition of Volume I, but an entirely new compilation, based on railroad conditions as they exist at the present time.

It contains a new set of briefs, an introduction which is a short review of the subject as a whole; and the various arguments for and against government ownership of the roads are brought out in the affirmative and negative discussions. The selected bibliography that is included is limited chiefly to the literature of the last two years.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS, Volume II, will be useful not only to the student and debater, but also to the general reader who wishes a concise review of the subject, and to the library wishing to supply good reference material in convenient form.

EMPLOYMENT MANAGEMENT

By DANIEL BLOOMFIELD and MYER BLOOMFIELD

Consultants on Employment and Industrial Relations

The development of this subject has been confined practically to the last ten years; its literature is recent and widely scattered through books, pamphlets, periodicals and reports.

The most important of these like the famous Whitley reports on Industrial councils, articles by Carleton H. Parker, John A. Fitch, Sidney Webb and others have been collected and reprinted in full in the handbook, "EMPLOYMENT MANAGEMENT." The articles are conveniently grouped for quick reference and with the selected bibliography of the best additional material on the subject, make the volume an excellent source book for teacher and student of social and civic betterment.

With the question of careful choice of employees, and the proper relations between employer and employed uppermost in men's minds, this book on Employment Management should prove a real help to the business man.

OTHER GOOD PRACTICAL BOOKS

Model Making

By Raymond Francis Yates

A new book for the mechanic and model maker. This is the first book of its kind to be published in this country and all those interested in model engineering should have a copy. The first eight chapters are devoted to such subjects as Silver Soldering, Heat Treatment of Steel, Lathe Work, Pattern Making, Grinding, etc. The remaining twenty-four chapters describe the construction of various models such as rapid fire naval guns, speed boats, model steam engines, turbines, etc.

This book must not be confused with those describing the construction of toys. It is a practical treatise on model engineering and construction. 400 pages. 301 illustrations. Price, $3.00

Abrasives and Abrasive Wheels

By Fred B. Jacobs

A careful reading of the book will not only make better mechanics, more able to use abrasives intelligently, but it will also tell shop superintendents many short cuts and efficiency-increasing hints. The economic advantages in using large grinding wheels is fully explained, together with many other things that will tend to give the superintendent or workman a keen insight into abrasive engineering. 340 pages. 200 illustrations. Price, $3.00

A B C of Aviation

By Major V. W. Pagé

This book describes the basic principles of aviation, tells how a balloon or dirigible is made and why it floats in the air. Describes how an airplane flies. It shows in detail the different parts of an aeroplane, what they are and what they do. Describes all types of airplanes and how they differ in construction; as well as detailing the advantages and disadvantages of different types of aircraft. 275 pages. 130 illustrations with 7 plates. Price, $2.50

Steam Engine Troubles

By H. Hamkens

It is safe to say that no book has ever been published which gives the practical engineer such valuable and comprehensive information on steam engine designs and troubles. There are descriptions of cylinders, valves, pistons, frames, pillow blocks and other bearings, connecting rods, wrist-plates, dashpots, reach-rods, valve gears, governors, piping, throttle and emergency valves, safety stops, fly-wheels, others, etc. If there is any trouble with these parts, the book gives you the reasons and tells how to remedy them. 350 pages. 276 illustrations. Price, $2.50

THE WAR ROMANCE OF THE SALVATION ARMY

By Commander EVANGELINE BOOTH
and GRACE LIVINGSTON HILL

30 Illustrations, 356 Pages. $1.50 net

A remarkable story, rich in human interest, that will go straight to the heart of every American. "Great stuff!" will be the verdict of the doughboys who met the Salvation Army lassies on the firing line. They will know that every word of this remarkable story is true. It is romance with a capital "R." It tells how the Salvation Army workers went into the hell of the battlefields and were the comrades of our boys through every battle and saw them as no one else could. No more human, stirring and heart-touching story has come out of the war.

A GENTLE CYNIC, Being the Book of Ecclesiastes

By MORRIS JASTROW, Jr., Ph.D., LL.D.

Octavo. Handsomely decorated. Cloth. $2.00 net.

"There is nothing new under the sun," said KOHELETH. But there is. It is nothing less than the appearance of Koheleth himself standing before us with his sublime poem in his hand as he wrote it and not as it is amended, annotated and garbled."—New York Sun, May 4th.

This delightfully human book on the OMAR KHAYYAM of the Bible gives an exact translation of the original text; tells how it came to be written and who wrote it (and it was not Solomon), and the whole intensely interesting story.

"Dr. Jastrow's translation is rich and melodious. Was there ever such poetry meshed in words?"—New York Sun, May 4th.

PICTURE ANALYSIS OF GOLF STROKES

By JAMES M. (JIMMIE) BARNES

Handsome octavo. $5.00 net.

This is a complete book of instructions for beginners, experts and golfers of all grades. Jimmie Barnes is one of the masters of the game, and explains the movements and details of every stroke on the opposite page from the picture illustrating it. Nothing like this work has ever been produced before. It is the best and most complete series of golf pictures ever taken. The book will come to golfers as a sensational exposition of the art of golf.

THE RED SIGNAL

By GRACE LIVINGSTON HILL

Author of "The Enchanted Barn"

A real American girl outwits a band of spies and agents for destruction in this country. It is a breathless and exciting yarn. Perhaps the finest touch is the heroine's gradual forgetfulness of self and safety as she realizes how her country can be served.

Frontispiece in color. $1.35 net

HIDDEN TREASURE

A Story of Modern Farming

By JOHN THOMAS SIMPSON

This is, above all, an intensely interesting story for boys, but written with the distinct purpose of inspiring them with the "back to the farm" idea, and also to point out to country boys the great commercial possibilities right at home.

Frontispiece in color and 16 illustrations. $1.50 net

TRAINING OF A SALESMAN

By WILLIAM MAXWELL, Vice-President, Thomas A. Edison, Inc.

Selling is an art every one in business should cultivate—we all have something to sell. The author has packed in this small volume concrete and constructive advice on all phases of salesmanship, all the ins and outs of the seller's art told in a humorous and pointed way which makes it unforgettable.

Choosing a Play

Suggestions and Bibliography for the Director of Amateur Dramatics

Most teachers and club leaders will welcome this instructive pamphlet by Gertrude E. Johnson, Asst. Professor in the Dept. of Public Speaking in the University of Wisconsin.

The short discussion of the need and place of dramatics in all schools and communities is followed by several lists of carefully selected plays (more than 500 in all) ranging from the little fifteen minute affair to the full fledged three and four act plays. The detailed information about these plays makes selection extremely easy.

First edition, compiled by Sarah B. Ball, in charge of the Business Branch, under the supervision of John Cotton Dana, Librarian of the Newark Public Library of Newark, N. J., and Chairman of the Committee on Libraries of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

Second edition, begun by Miss Ball before she became librarian for the U. S. Rubber Co. Completed by Linda H. Morley and Sophy H. Powell, under the supervision of John Cotton Dana, with the assistance of the Library Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

This volume is the result of nearly ten years' search for printed matter relating to business.

"1600 BUSINESS BOOKS" is more than a list of books. It is a catalog, with authors, titles and subjects arranged in a single alphabet. Each book, directory or periodical is entered under as many subjects as may be needed to represent it fully.

Advertising, selling, accounting, office management, and methods, efficiency and the administrative side of business are fully represented.

The first edition was exhausted in a few months.

In this, the second edition, 743 titles were added, 183 dropped, and the publishers' names and prices have been included.

"1600 BUSINESS BOOKS" will show you at a glance what books, periodicals, maps, directories and public documents are available—for every phase of commerce.

Its 232 pages are printed double column, in clear, legible type, on good white paper, and substantially bound in Holliston's silk cloth, gold lettering. $1.50 postpaid.

"The art of letter writing, so far as serious thought and abiding personal interest are concerned, has been lost in the rapid shuffle of books and papers, telegrams and phone messages, rapid transit and other means of communication, including the haste of modern life among all classes. But those letters, written in the first century by the followers of Christ, are not only of the highest intrinsic value, but also charming in style and instinct with human interest, and rich in literary and spiritual content. They are full of light for dark days, comfort for seasons of sorrow, and, like the One who inspired them, a very present help in time of need."—Religious Telescope.

The untimely death of the compiler of this little manual lends additional significance to the Foreword in which Dr. Chapman argues for the re-establishment of the family altar, and from which we quote:

WORSHIP IN THE HOME

It is a sad thing to realize that some children have never heard their fathers pray. I sincerely pity the father of whom this can be said, and the child who is thus deprived of an influence which almost inevitably makes for strength of character.

PUBLISHER'S NOTE

If Dr. Chapman could have known in advance the day when God would call him from earth, he could not have chosen a more fitting task for the rounding out of his ministry than the preparation of DAY AFTER DAY.

Both as pastor and as evangelist, he delighted to speak on the home and to urge with all his great power the duty and privilege of Family Religion.

The reading of the proof of this volume was one of the last acts of his fruitful life.

The Wall and the Gates and Other Sermons

by

J. RITCHIE SMITH, D.D.

Professor of Homiletics
Princeton Theological SeminaryCloth, 280 pages
$1.50 postpaid

This volume is published in answer to many requests that the spoken word might be put into permanent form. These sermons proved helpful to many when they were delivered, and in print will secure a wider audience and by the blessing of God may fulfil a larger ministry.

The general theme of the volume may be defined as Truth and Life in Christ Jesus. The purpose in view is to draw from the Scriptures those truths which are vitally related to character and conduct and apply them to the individual life.

The attempt is made therefore, simply to discover the truth as it is in Jesus, and apply it to the daily course and conduct of life. Christ is exalted throughout for there is no preaching worthy of the name of which Christ is not the center and the sum.

An Introduction to Library Classification

With Readings, Questions and Examination Papers

By W. C. BERWICK SAYRES,
Chief Librarian, Croydon Public Libraries

Teachers and students of library work who thought the author's earlier book, "Canons of Classification" too technical for beginners, should procure "AN INTRODUCTION TO LIBRARY CLASSIFICATION."

This volume is based on a series of lessons prepared some years ago for the use of students working for the examination of the Library Association.

In clear, simple language it defines the technical terms and gives the reasons behind each system of classification, then goes on to show its method of application. It is an excellent textbook on the subject of book classification. 172 pages, cloth, $1.25 net.

Do You Know ASIA

The American Magazine of the Orient?

This richly illustrated monthly is the only general magazine published treating exclusively of Oriental matters. It is as instructive as it is entertaining.

ASIA

fills the need for correct knowledge about the countries and peoples of the Orient. The high responsibility we now hold in our new international position brings us into close diplomatic and trade relations with every part of the world. China's affairs are our affairs—Japan's interests are our interests—Near Eastern matters are our concern, for this is the period of great international responsibility on our part. No longer can we stand aloof. And, therefore, we must know more about Asia.

Asia the magazine, brings the Orient to you. Not as dry as dust discussion, but through articles contributed by authorities in popular style, illustrated with remarkable photographs and reproductions of paintings. Each issue contains an average of ten articles, and is profusely illustrated with from fifty to sixty illustrations. The insert is a feature and is a veritable art gallery of the Far East.

Its editorial scope is as broad as the great continent. It embraces Asiatic "ASIA" lifts the veil of mystery that has heretofore surrounded the countries and peoples of the Far East, so that you penetrate and dwell among them and learn how they live, think and act. The cradle of world civilization is brought to you in full romantic, picturesque glamour.

"A year's course with ASIA as schoolmaster would be equivalent to a semester of Oriental study in a university."—DR. JAMES L. BARTON, Director of the American Committee for the Relief of the Near East.

"ASIA" will serve as a background for the necessary knowledge preparatory to a vigorous intercourse and trade with the Orient.

Most libraries have "ASIA" because of the demand for such a magazine of interest and appeal to every one seeking to be well informed.

SAMPLE COPY ON REQUEST

Associate Membership in The American Asiatic Association includes "ASIA" for one year. Dues $3.00.

the convictions of christopher sterling

by Harold Begbie, Author of "Twice Born Men"

The term "conscientious objector" is one which of late has been much more widely used than understood. In this novel, Harold Begbie has ventured to depict in fictional form the adventures and mental attitude of a man who comes into this class. Christopher Sterling, the central figure in the story, is a Quaker, profoundly religious and profoundly opposed to warfare for whatever purpose. In his study of Sterling's convictions and of his treatment at the hands of the civil authorities Mr. Begbie has been scrupulously faithful to actual conditions as he was aware of them; and although his treatment is sympathetic he makes no plea for the validity of Sterling's views. The book was written and is published as a story of unusual timely interest, which, apart from its fictional appeal, gives the intelligent reader an insight into the opinions of a class of men whom it is important to understand. $1.50 net.

personal efficiency in business

by Edward Earle Purinton, Author of "Efficient Living"

In this new book, Mr. Purinton has applied to business practices the principles of personal efficiency he has been teaching for over sixteen years. He shows how, in the office, in the factory, on the road, in every trade and business and profession, it is the man himself who must make an efficiency system successful; and in a tone of common sense, illuminated by a wide knowledge of his subject, he points out ways of achieving both business and personal efficiency at the same time. $1.50 net.

the law of mind in action

by Fenwicke Lindsay Holmes

A series of short daily lessons explaining the basic principles of Mental Science with specific directions for the application of these principles to individual problems.

The author is one of the founders of the Southern California Metaphysical Institute and has taught the principles enunciated in this book to thousands of people all over the country.

Students of the philosophy of Thomas Troward will be especially interested in Mr. Holmes' teachings, which are in essential harmony with those of Judge Troward. $1.25 net.

new fallacies of midas

by Cyril E. Robinson

An explanation of the main principles of industrial, social and economic theory in language clear to the lay reader. The book traces the development and tests the practical uses of the three rival claims put forward by the socialist, the syndicalist and the individualist. 204 pages. $2.00 net.

practical rabbit keeping

by E. I. Farrington, Author of "The Home Poultry Book"

How many inquiries have you had lately for "a good book on rabbits." This is a handbook of rabbit keeping by a man who knows the subject thoroughly. It tells how to begin keeping rabbits, how to house and what to feed them, how to sell their meat and fur and how to prepare them for the table. An excellent guide for the experienced rabbit keeper and for the man or boy who intends to undertake rabbit raising either as a business or a hobby. Illustrated. $1.00 net.

father noah

by Geoffrey Whitworth

A simple, intense spiritual drama, in which the Biblical characters are poignant, living beings and the emotional appeal universal. $1.00 net.

catholic tales

by Dorothy L. Sayers

A book of ballads and poems written with a fine simplicity of faith, a daring originality and unusual power. 64 pages. Boards. $1.00.

MORE PORTMANTEAU PLAYS

By STUART WALKER, author of "Portmanteau Plays" with an introduction by EDWARD HALE BIERSTADT.

The thorough success of the volume entitled "PORTMANTEAU PLAYS" has encouraged the publication of a second series under the title "MORE PORTMANTEAU PLAYS." This continuation carries on the work begun in the first book, and contains "The Lady of the Weeping Willow Tree," one of the finest and most effective pieces Stuart Walker has presented under his own name, "The Very Naked Boy," a slight, whimsical and wholly delightful bit of foolery, "Jonathan Makes a Wish," a truly strong three act work with an appeal of unusual vigor.

12mo. Net $1.75.

New Edition THE CHANGING DRAMA

By ARCHIBALD HENDERSON, M.A. Ph.D., author of "European Dramatists," "George Bernard Shaw—His Life and Work," Etc.

New York Tribune:—"Not only the first book in its field—in the completeness of its scope, the scholarly, well balanced thoroughness of the treatment of its material, it is likely to remain the standard work as well for some time to come. One of the small number of books on the modern drama which the serious student can not afford to leave unread."

12mo. Net $1.75.

STREAMCRAFT—AN ANGLING MANUAL

By DR. GEORGE PARKER HOLDEN

The author has written a volume which will be of great interest to those of the angling fraternity. It deals with the selection, care and rigging of the rod, the art of casting, trout habits, lures and their use, including some stream entomology, the angler flies and how to tie them, including a description of the most successful trout and bass flies. The style is always sprightly and lucid, even in the most technical parts.

Handsomely and elaborately illustrated. Eight full page colored illustrations and numerous black and whites. The book in size handy for the pocket. Net $2.00.

FISHING, TACKLE AND KITS

By DIXIE CARROLL, author of "Lake and Stream Game Fishes"

How, when and where to fish and the right kind of tackle for all angles of fishing for the fresh water game fish. Habits and peculiarities of the basses, muskallonge, trout, pike, pickerel and wall-eyed pike. Fishing facts that will make the tyro an expert angler and the expert more finished in the art. Practical information that will make your fishing dreams come true. Little points that fill your stringer written from years of lake and stream study and experience. How to play the fish in a sportsmanlike manner. Things worth knowing about tackle, etc.

Many illustrations from photographs. Colored cover jacket. Large 12mo. Cloth. Net $2.00.

New Edition BASS, PIKE, PERCH AND OTHER GAME FISHES OF AMERICA

By JAMES A. HENSHALL, M.D., author of the book of the "Black Bass," Etc.

The most comprehensive book on American Game-Fishes published. It describes in detail ninety species and varieties of the game-fishes inhabiting fresh water lakes and streams east of the Rocky Mountains, and the marine and brackish waters of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

In addition to a brief, technical description of the fishes for the purpose of identification, the popular description and account of their habits, habitats and everything relating to their environment is full and complete; the whole comprising a valuable compendium and text book for the angler with bait or artificial fly.

Many illustrations, frontispiece and cover jacket in full color. 12mo. Cloth. Net $2.00

HOW ABOUT YOUR STAFF?

It is a generally accepted fact that employees of any organization who have been encouraged to be careful in their expenditures, to save their money and to invest it judiciously do better work, have greater pride in their jobs, and greater loyalty to their organizations.

The United States Government now offers institutions an unusual opportunity for the systematic organization of their staff for THRIFT through the founding of War Savings Societies.

GROUP SAVING through War Savings Societies bolsters up esprit de corps. It encourages economy in personal and staff expenditures. It develops loyalty to institution and country.

The organization of a War Savings Society among your staff will be a direct help in winning the war, not only because it helps directly in Government financing, but also it releases men, money and materials for essential war work through the saving on non-essentials.

Perhaps you haven't thought of a War Savings Society for your staff in just this way before.

Why not organize a company of savers among your staff under your leadership and turn it over to the government?

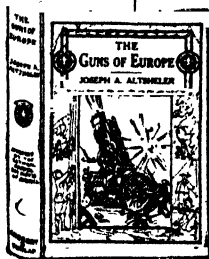

We will be glad to give you full particulars if you will write.

When the Librarian is asked--

- I. Can you recommend some books for boys which are red-blooded and virile and yet are recognized as classic literature?

EVERYBOY'S LIBRARY

The official library of the Boy Scouts of America. The only series of books published that is issued under the control of a great organization whose only object is the welfare of the boy. 46 stirring books of adventure on sea, on battlefield, in the air, in college, in the wilderness, for every scout and every other boy with red blood in his veins and the love of fair play in his heart. The books are full library size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$  inches, averaging  $1\frac{1}{4}$  inches thick. They are printed on good paper, and uniformly bound in cloth, with the Boy Scout official stamp on the cover.

- II. Have you any reference books for young people so interestingly written and "full of pictures" that they are as fascinating as story books?

EVERY CHILD SHOULD KNOW SERIES

These books solve every parent's problem—that of educating the child while he entertains himself. They are written to INTEREST the reader first and then to instruct, for in that way only can the juvenile mind be reached. They give the child more information about the beautiful and interesting things in Nature, in Art, in Literature, in Music than anything you could put in his hands. The 22 volumes contain nearly 400 illustrations, many of them in the finest color work. They are edited by authorities like Hamilton W. Mabie, who KNOW what children like, and are able to give it to them. The EVERY CHILD SHOULD KNOW SERIES might be called the "Every Child Will Enjoy Series."

NOTE: The Grosset & Dunlap catalog of popular and standard fiction contains the names of five hundred books, every one of which is in answer to a great demand, or it would never have been reprinted. The librarian's attention is called to this list of books, for a great many are included which are needed on your shelves. They are all by the foremost authors. The Popular Copyright Edition affords every library the opportunity of purchasing two good books for the price of one original edition. As the same plates, binding, paper and illustrations are used in these books, and sooner or later they will be put in the Library's uniform buckram binding, they are exactly as serviceable as the more expensive edition.

Notes and Announcements

The annual numbers of the Cumulative Book Index have heretofore been published in January. It was decided to change the date of these annual cumulations because of congestion in the printing office at that time of year and also because the publication of so large a volume delayed the following current number of the Index at a time when books are coming rapidly upon the market and subscribers need prompt service. The publication of the annual volume in July appears to interfere least with the prompt service which the Index aims to give.

The present so-called annual, being the first to be issued under the new plan, covers eighteen months and forms a second supplement to the "United States Catalog of Books in Print, 1912."

Librarians and others interested in bibliographic work are cordially invited to visit the home of the H. W. Wilson Company when they are in New York. Take the Sixth Avenue Elevated, a train marked Kingsbridge Road, and get off at Sedgwick Avenue. A glance to the north upon leaving the station will probably fall upon a red brick building upon which the company's sign is plainly visible.

Why the Card Catalog?

The following conversation between the bookseller Roger Mifflin and the young publicity man Gilbert is taken from Christopher Morley's delightful story "The Haunted Bookshop," recently published by Doubleday, Page & Company. The publishers of the Cumulative Book Index have been disposed to consider librarians over conservative in their devotion to the card catalog when they might have a printed catalog for less money. Here is Mr. Mifflin's explanation.

"I should have thought," said Gilbert, "that life in a bookshop would be delightfully tranquil."

"Far from it. Living in a bookshop is like living in a warehouse of explosives. Those shelves are ranked with the most furious combustibles in the world—the brains of men. I can spend a rainy afternoon reading, and my mind works itself up to such a passion and anxiety over mortal problems as almost unman me. It is terribly nerve-racking. Surround a man with Carlyle, Emerson, Thoreau, Chesterton, Shaw, Nietzsche, and George Ade—would you wonder at his getting excited? What would happen to a cat if she had to live in a room tapestried with catnip? She would go crazy!"

"Truly, I had never thought of that phase of bookselling," said the young man. "How is it, though, that libraries are shrines of such austere calm? If books are as provocative as you suggest, one would expect every librarian to utter the shrill screams of a hierophant, to clash ecstatic castanets in his silent alcoves!"

"Ah, my boy, you forget the card index! Librarians invented that soothing device for the febrifuge of their souls, just as I fall back upon the rites of the kitchen. Librarians would all go mad, those capable of concentrated thought, if they did not have the cool and healing card index as medicament! Some more of the eggs?"

It is a temptation to quote more from this humorous, human, and altogether charming book. Mr. Morley like John Galsworthy and other writers noted for their human quality has sympathies that sweep beyond the human and embrace the animal world also. The character of Bock, Mr. Mifflin's dog, is as carefully drawn as that of Roger himself or Helen. Of the war Mr. Morley says, "My prayer is that what we have gone through will startle the world into some new realization of the sanctity of life—all life, animal as well as human."

Names Used as Headings

Entries are made preferably under the author's real name, but under the pseudonym, when the real name is not known or rarely used; under names of editors of compilations; under names of countries, states or cities which are treated as authors of their publications and of law reports; under names of societies or conventions, as authors of their transactions, journals, reports, and collections; under names of churches as authors of liturgies, hymn-books, catechisms, etc. (local churches, under name of place); under Bible when the book is a text or a paraphrase of any part of the Bible. Entries are made under the first word of the title, not an article, of anonymous works, compilations published under collective titles, periodicals, and year-books. Translations, abridgments, and indexes, are put under the original work.

Parts of Names Used as Headings.

English compound names are put under the first part. English surnames beginning with a prefix are put under the prefix; in French names, under the prefix excepting the preposition de and d'; in all other languages and in French names beginning with de or d', under the name following the prefix. British noblemen are put under their titles; bishops under their family names; members of royal families, canonized persons, and members of religious orders under their first names.

Prices.

Educational and technical books, and other books sold at a limited discount and commonly known as net books have an asterisk (*) before the price.

When a price is changed, the book is recatalogued and designated (corr. price) in the current number of the Index whatever may be the date of its publication.

Library of Congress Cards.

Numbers to be used in ordering the printed catalog cards of the Library of Congress are given at the end of the main (author) entry of each book. In many government publications, however, for which only subject entries are given, these numbers are attached to the subject entries.

When a book is entered before the Library of Congress card number can be procured, it is reentered in a succeeding issue of the Index with the order number attached. It will be necessary, for example, to look in the current issues of the Index for the numbers of some books that were published in the preceding year and catalogued in the Index for that year.

In ordering cards by these numbers, the numbers should be arranged in columns in increasing order of the numbers. The number of copies wanted should be indicated after the card numbers with a slanting line between, e. g., 5-2850/4. The price of cards ordered by number is 2c. for the first copy and 1c. for each additional copy. If the order is by author and title, the price of the first card is 3 3/10c. For further information apply to the Card Section of the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.
